Dear Gene,

Just a note to thank you for letting me preview the new Lydkraft Tube Compressor. Since you introduced me to the Lydkraft line of equalizers, I have used them extensively on projects ranging from James Taylor to KBC Band; from Carly Simon to John Waite.

I am very glad that in this day of VLSI chips and digital audio that there are a few visionaries who are looking back to the future, and providing us with the unquestionable sonic benefits of tube technology coupled with the modern advances in low noise and low distortion.

All of us have our own cherished tube EQ's, limiters and microphones from the past which we guard so very carefully, even as the years increasingly take their inevitable toll. The new line of Lydkraft program and mid-range EQ's provides a renewed source of that fabled tube smoothness, with noise and distortion specs to satisfy the most demanding digitalphile. With the forthcoming release of Lydkraft's tube compressor and soon to be released tube mic preamp, we may yet see the day when digital recordings sound as good as their analog counterparts.

Sincerely,

Frank Filipetti
